RSC may choose to award $200 per person which, collectively, is $600.)

- When a person has Bingo, they must shout Bingo and wave their hand to be recognized. It is up to each individual to get the attention of the emcee or a game attendant when they have Bingo. When a Bingo is recognized by staff, the emcee stops the game and asks all players to NOT clear their cards.

How To Play Race For Riches (RFR)

- Each pair of winners through 8:30 pm compete against each other, "racing" on a track of 24 spaces.
- Each contestant rolls an oversized die & advances the number of spaces equal to what was rolled.
- There are four bonus spaces on the track where a contestant can advance 2 additional spaces.
- To be considered a legal roll, the die must be tossed out and away from the player. It cannot be dropped or slow rolled. The die must also make at least 1 full rotation in the air and/or on the ground. If a guest repeatedly tries to manipulate the outcome of the die with illegal rolls, the guest is disqualified and wins the lowest valued prize available at that drawing time. Legality is determined by the game attendant and all decisions are final.

- If a die hits another contestant or game attendant, they are considered part of the floor and roll counts providing it met all other legal criteria.
- The contestant who crosses the finish line first wins FSP based on the number of rolls it took to finish: 4 rolls = $500, 5 rolls = $400, 6 rolls = $300 and 7 or more rolls = $200.
- The contestant who finishes second wins $100 FSP.
- Both contestants roll to complete a round. In the event both contestants cross the finish line on the same roll round, the one who advanced the farthest past the finish line wins.
- If still tied, there will be a one-turn "roll-off." Highest number wins.
- In the event one contestant doesn't show, the contestant present plays solo for the winning values.
- At 9 pm, the winner competes solo. Total number of rolls needed to finish determines FSP: 4 rolls = $5000, 5 rolls = $4000, 6 rolls = $3000 and 7 or more rolls = $2000.

- Prior to the green, the ball may be moved one club length to a like condition (e.g. ball in the rough must be played in the rough) but no closer to the hole.
- Any team with fewer than four players, may take one extra swing per shot. Each extra swing should be on an equal rotating basis among the team players.
